NO BONES BROKEN.

Police reports Thursday morning revealed that G. Hutchinson, 700 Volentine avenue, who was injured when an Oakland runabout overturned at Woodlawn street and Looney avenue Wednesday morning, had not received a fractured shoulder, as was at first believed. A physician's examination disclosed that Mr. Hutchinson had a badly bruised shoulder, and severe lacerations about the face.

Mr. Hutchinson was injured in attempting to avoid collision with a truck belonging to Pera Bros., grocers, 322 North Third street, according to Fred Dietel, traffic policeman, and a neighbor. The Hutchinson car was demolished by collision with an iron lamp post. Mr. Hutchinson was thrown out when the car overturned.

LECTURER SEES PERIL IN WAR OF CLASSES

Danger of war among the classes, springing from extension of modern socialism, peril of Industrial Workers of the World trying to become "industrial owners of the world," and other problems arising from chaotic conditions arising from America's failure to ratify the peace treaty, furnished the burden of the lecture of Dr. J. Duncan Spæth, professor of English language and literature at Princeton University, who closed a series of talks at Goodwyn Institute Wednesday night.

Dr. Spæth deplored the fact that the peace treaty discussion in the United States senate had degenerated into a partisan political tangle and expressed the belief that the pact with the league of nations would be the subject of discussion for a century to come, even as the constitution of the United States has in its present imperfect and loosely amended state.

Internationalism has for its purpose the destruction of state and national groups and the formation of class groups, according to Dr. Spæth, and therein lies the greatest danger to the equilibrium of civilization. If allowed to become ascendant in the world body politic it would revert world progress many centuries, is Dr. Spæth's theory, and the world therefore would be plunged into a series of bloody political wars.

Restriction of immigration by the selective method was advocated by the speaker as a partial remedy for syndicalism in the United States.

ANTLERED HERD WILL MOURN ITS DEPARTED

The annual custom of paying honor to those brother Elks who have passed beyond the veil "whose faults are written in the sands and whose virtues are inscribed upon the tablets of love and memory" will be observed by Memphis Elks at the Lyric theater in the "Lodge of sorrow" Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Reservations on the stage will be made for members of the local and visiting lodges, while the auditorium will be thrown open to families, friends and the general public. The doors will be opened at 2:15 and the exercises will begin promptly at 3 o'clock.

The memorial address will be delivered by Hon. J. D. Senter, Col. William J. Bacon will preside and will deliver the eulogy on the lives of the members who have passed away during the past year. He will call the roll of the departed whose answer will be in the form of a light flashed upon a screen within a mammoth cluster to be erected upon the stage.

A musical program also is being arranged.

Christmas Morning

And a fine box of Samson's Extra cigars for the men folks. It will surely be a merry Xmas, with plenty of Extras to smoke.

TO PREACH AT WOODSTOCK

The Very Rev. F. DuM. Devall, dean of St. Mary's cathedral, and the Rev. Paul F. Williams, will hold services Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the mission church at Woodstock. Beside the usual vespers service, Dean Devall will talk on the nation-wide campaign.

MODERN WOODMEN TO INSTALL OFFICERS

Election of officers for the coming year, a banquet and smoker will be the features of the meeting of the Modern Woodmen of America to be held Thursday evening at the lodge hall, fourth floor, Odd Fellows' building, at 7:30 p.m. J. H. D. Stevens will preside and will introduce and install the new district deputy for the Memphis camp, J. W. Carpenter.

Refreshments will be served and a smoker will follow the business meeting. In the future meetings of the camp will be held on Thursday evenings.

Jinks—We're pretty careful these days. Saving to buy a house.

Blinks—What does your wife think about it?

Jinks—Oh, great! She thinks we're saving to buy a new car.—Caricatures.
